

REFERRING TO C20C IN PUBLISHED PAPERS

When describing C20C experimental results or using C20C model data to substantiate a point in a scientific paper or other publication, please make note of the following conventions for proper citation of the project and data sources.

1. Please refer to your work as being part of the CLIVAR International Climate of the Twentieth Century Project in the body of the text, early in the paper.
2. Please reference the following until further notice as the main reference paper for the project:

Folland, C.K., Shukla J., Kinter J., and M. J. Rodwell, 2002: C20C: The Climate of the Twentieth Century Project. CLIVAR Exchanges, Vol 7, No2 (June 2002) 37-39. (Available from the International CLIVAR Project Office, Southampton Oceanography Centre, Empress Dock, Southampton, SO14 3ZH, UK (<http://www.clivar.org/publications/exchanges/ex24/ex24.pdf>))

3. Please reference the HadISST data set:

Rayner, N.A., Parker, D.E., Horton, E.B., Folland, C.K., Alexander, L.V., Rowell, D.P., Kent, E.C., and A. Kaplan, 2003: Global analyses of sea surface temperature, sea ice, and night marine air temperature since the late nineteenth century. J. Geophys. Res., 108(D14), 4407, doi: 10.1209/2002JD002670, 2003. (29pp + 8 supplementary colour pages).

For new participants, full details of the C20C project are available at <http://www.iges.org/c20c/>.